MINERS REJECT FINAL COMPROMISE FEDERAL DRY LAW IN PRESIDENT'S HANDS

DOCK STRIKE DECISION IS DUE TODAY

Unions Are Given
Ultimatum by the Shipping Concerns.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—New York's striking longshoremen today forced an ultimatum by the United States shipping board that if they did not return to work by 5 o'clock this evening the board would undertake to end the long tieup of shipping by loading and unloading its ships with men brought here especially for the purpose. These workers now are quartered on a vessel moored at one of the trans-Atlantic piers.

T. V. O'Connor, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, expressed his pleasure at the shipping board's action and said he hoped the men would return today. Some of the unions who are opposed to O'Connor, however, have voted not to return until their grievances are definitely settled. About 3,000 men out of 40,000 on strike were at work yesterday.

TROOPS AT GARY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Federal troops at Gary, Ind., today patrolled with "trench guns" weapons of the sawed off shotgun type. They were thus equipped by order of Colonel W. S. Mapee, commanding the strike area under military control after he had received reports that the infantrymen had been stoned by strike sympathizers.

Colonel Mapee said the troops would fire on attackers. Elsewhere in the district the industrial situation was reported generally unchanged.

ASK R. R. AID.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—Steel strike leaders in the Pittsburgh district were formulating plans at union headquarters here today for the taking of a strike vote of railroad workers employed in the mills. J. M. Patterson, representative of the steel plant railroads on the national strike committee, is in the city and has charge of the strike vote program. Reports from both union headquarters and representatives of the steel companies in the district early today were to the effect that there was little change in the strike situation.

TWO MILLS OPEN.

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 24.—Two more plate mills at the Sharon Steel Hoop company's local plant resumed operations at midnight. It is estimated that about 14,000 men are now working regularly in the mills affected by the steel strike in this valley.

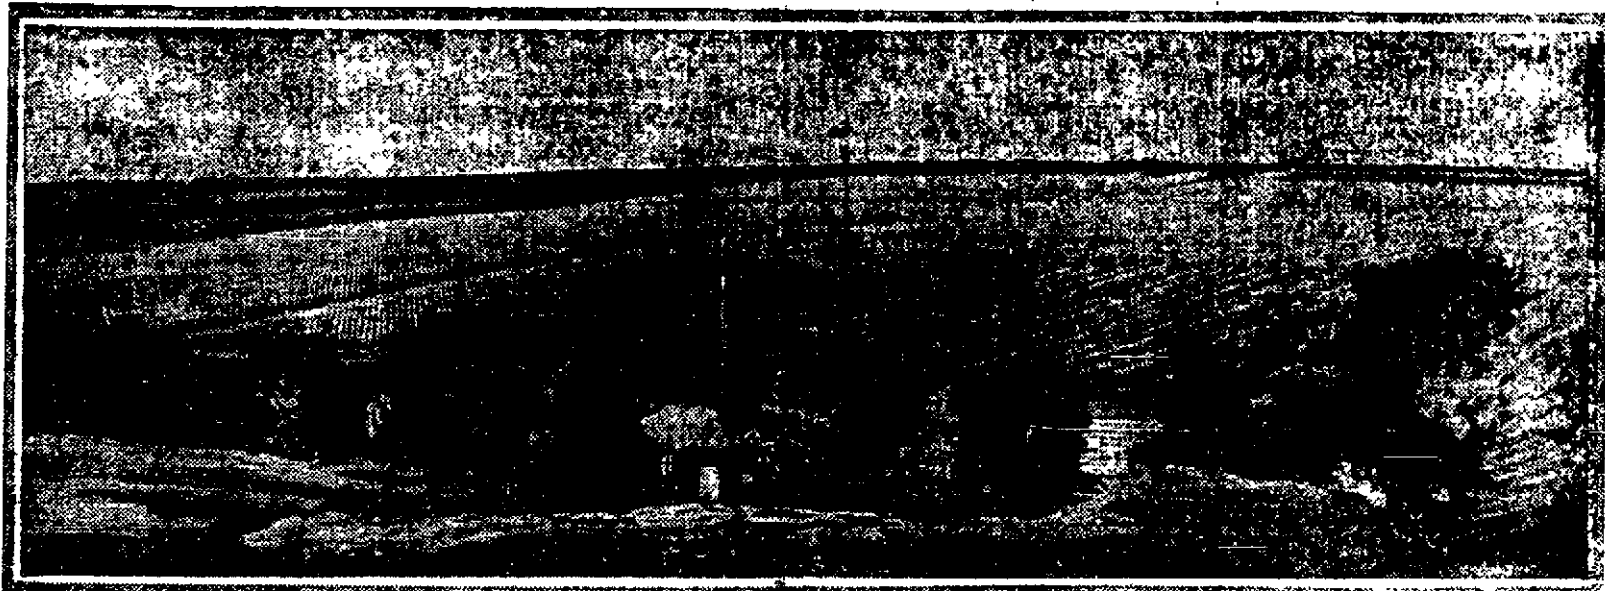

ARREST PICKET.

CANTON, Oct. 24.—A half dozen persons, including one woman picket, were arrested here last night following trouble near the United Alloy Steel Corporation plant here, in which hundreds of strikers took part. Special police used their clubs on a number of strikers. The trouble followed fighting earlier in the day when strikers stoned street cars and automobiles carrying workmen to the mill.

TRACTION HEAD RESIGNS.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 24.—Richard T. Sullivan has resigned as general manager of the Mahoning and Shenango Railway and Light company to go to Tacoma, Wash., where he will be general manager of the merged traction and light systems. Mr. Sullivan leaves at the end of this month.

Cemetery in France Where 22,000 American Soldier Heroes Were Buried

Arrangements are being perfected by the War Department, in co-operation with the State Department, for the return to the United States of the bodies of American soldiers buried in Great Britain, Belgium, Italy, Germany, Luxembourg and North Russia. The War Department will await the action of the French government with respect to our dead buried in France. This photograph shows the Argonne Cemetery at Romagne, France, where lie the bodies of 22,000 Americans who gave their lives in the world war. It covers twenty acres.

MINERS AGREE TO HEAR ANOTHER PLAN TO WARD OFF IMPENDING STRIKE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Operators and miners today rejected a proposal by Secretary Wilson that they negotiate a new wage agreement calculated to avert the strike of soft coal miners called for November 1.

Both sides rejected the new wage proposal. Mr. Wilson then pleaded with leaders not to break up, but to return at four o'clock stating that meanwhile he would get in touch with the White House. The meeting was held together while the two groups discussed separately what cause they would take.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Secretary of Labor Wilson had ready another proposal to submit to the conference of coal miners and operators today in an effort to ward off a bituminous coal miners strike set for November 1.

With the failure of his first proposal to bring the two factions together the labor department head averted a complete break-up of the conference by dramatic appeal to the delegates to remain in session until all means were exhausted to save the country from the tragedy of a coal strike.

Both sides finally agreed to meet again today to hear the new proposal.

It was near the end of a long and heated session at which the miners formally rejected one plan of settlement and refused to arbitrate wages, that the secretary, taking hold of a slender thread, brought the two sides together and kept them here for another conference tomorrow, at which results are expected.

As members of the two groups, weary after three days of argument and wrangling, left the meeting place they refused to hazard an opinion as to whether or not the strike could be averted. In certain quarters, however, there was a more hopeful view than heretofore.

Cheerful Feeling Indicated
Secretary Wilson, a bit hoarse after long pleading with the factions for consideration of the public's rights, actually seemed to be cheerful. Much of this feeling was due to the fact that he had persuaded the warring factions to make another attempt to restore peace to the industry when they were ready to quit.

"The miners rejected and the operators neither rejected nor accepted my first proposal for settlement of their troubles," said Secretary Wilson tonight, in summing up the day's conference. "They now have before them for consideration a proposition submitted by me that they go into conference with each other, without reservation, as if no demands had been made or refused, having in mind the interests in their respective groups.

"The miners are willing to do that and the operators are willing, provided the strike order is withdrawn."

Lewis Heads Departure

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, leading from the conference room a group of his men, said:

"The strike order stands."

Thomas L. Brewster, head of the Coal Operators' Association, leaving the meeting with a party of his associates, stopped long enough to say:

"We are where we started."

Out of the mass of conflicting claims, however, there seemed to be a better chance that Secretary Wilson might be able to bring the miners and operators together.

All efforts to have the two sides arbitrate their differences fell. Mr. Wilson explained that early in the meeting the operators proposed to submit the question of increased wages, after expiration of the present contract, to a board of arbitration. Only the question of wages was to be considered, but Lewis rejected it.

PUBLIC GROUP ASSUMES TASK IN LABOR CASE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The burden of carrying on the national industrial conference developed today upon the public group after the withdrawal of the labor group and the consequent dissolution of the employers' group. President Wilson through Secretary Lane, chairman of the conference, called upon the public group to remain in session and complete the work of formulating a plan for the establishment of new relationship between capital and labor, for which the original conference was called.

Some dissension was noted among the remaining delegates as the result of a feeling that they were the "remains" of the conference wreckage but the leaders were hopeful that the public group, who it was pointed out in reality represent all classes, could save the day by assuming the responsibility of the whole conference.

Secretary Lane informed the conference that the president if necessary would nominate additional delegates for the public group to give the conference representative scope.

It was pointed out that the conference had resulted in drawing lines of differences clearly and that the farmers had found that their real interests were with labor and not with the employers. This sentiment was expressed only by the farmers' delegates.

Common Fight Expected
Similarly, it was asserted that the common fight made by the representatives of the four great railroad brotherhoods with the delegates of the American Federation of Labor, with whom the railroad brotherhoods are not affiliated, had served to bring them much closer.

On the basis of these observations the prediction was made by labor leaders today that the net result of the conference would be a great coalition in which railroad employees, union labor as represented by the American Federation of Labor, and the farmers would undertake to fight together.

How the heaven is working is shown by the efforts being made by steel strikers to obtain active assistance from the railroad brotherhoods and the movement of the coal miners to gain the co-operation of railroad brotherhoods in bringing about the nationalization of both railroads and coal miners.

HOG CHOLERA IN BUTLER
HAMILTON, Oct. 24.—Reports from various parts of Butler county indicate that hog cholera has vastly accentuated its toll in recent days. Veterinarians are reported overworked in attempting to stay the disease. Carl Raine, farmer, stated today that he lost 72 hogs; Frank Compton announced his entire stock died from the disease. Other farmers report heavy losses.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL FILES OPINION ON CONSTITUTIONALITY

LENINE TAKEN BY ANTI REDS IS REPORTED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

HONOLULU, Oct. 24.—Nikolai Lenin, Bolshevik premier of Russia, has been captured by anti-Bolshevik forces according to a wireless message picked up by the Japan ship Tenyo Maru, in the harbor here. The message gave no further details of the reported capture of Lenin.

ACTIVE NEAR ROME.

ROME, Oct. 24.—A lively movement of allied war craft stationed in Adriatic ports is in progress. The United States torpedo boat Foote which has been stationed here, has been ordered to Spalato and left this evening for that Dalmatian port. Similar movements of British and French war craft are occurring.

The Associated Press correspondent was informed today by an American naval commander that the movement probably was connected with the Fiume situation.

Reds Taken Prisoners.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—One thousand prisoners were captured by anti-Bolshevik forces when the city of Kamyshin, in the Volga valley north of Tsaritsyn, was taken, according to a wireless message received here quoting an official statement issued from General Denikine's headquarters. Don Cossacks, the statement says, have occupied Pavlovskaya, a Cossack village in the province of Kuban, capturing 500 men.

Disarm Germans.

COPENHAGEN, October 24.—Germano-Russian forces in Lithuania, commanded by Colonel Virgolitche, have been defeated by Lithuanian troops in two encounters, according to an official statement issued from Lithuanian headquarters at Kovno. Near Soleshniki, south of Vilna, the Germano-Russian forces were disarmed, while near Kurshenez, southeast of Vilna, they fled from the field, abandoning all their arms and ammunition; according to the statement.

League Change Before Senate May Vote Today

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—The amendment to the league of nations covenant of the peace treaty by Senator Johnson, republican, California, dealing with the voting strength in the council and assembly, was before the senate again today. Although it was hardly considered probable a vote could be reached there were indications an effort would be made to bring the amendment to a roll call before adjournment.

The foreign relations committee's reservations continued the subject of animated discussion. Indications were that the reservations to the treaty would cause a long drawn out fight with both forces splitting from time to time on the various reservations. Neither the republican nor the democratic leaders seemed to have absolute control of his following and both forces were laboring to strengthen their ranks for the final vote.

Railways Prepare Data to Secure an Increase in Rates.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—President Wilson had before him today the prohibition enforcement bill, recently passed by congress, with an opinion by Attorney General Palmer as to the measure's constitutionality.

Interest in the president's action on the bill was heightened by reason of the fact that the war-time enforcement section, making illegal the manufacture or sale of liquor of more than one half of one per cent alcoholic content, becomes effective with his signature.

It was considered doubtful, however, by White House officials whether the president would be permitted by Rear Admiral Grayson, his personal physician, to consider the bill and the opinion today.

Despite the president's activity yesterday and the day previous, Dr. Grayson was able to announce last night that "the president is satisfactorily maintaining the improvement which he has recently made."

R. R. DATA GATHERED.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—Railroad corporations have started the collection of data for presentation to the interstate commerce commission in advocacy of increased transportation rates. After Director General Hines declined in a conference yesterday to take an active part in the negotiations for increased rates, the railroad corporations decided to act independently and started immediately the accumulation of material to convince the commission of the reasonableness of their demands.

The director general's refusal was based on the ground that the government had no intention of initiating advances, but he agreed to place at the disposal of the corporations the services of the experts of the railroad administration and all available information bearing on the subject.

The percentage of increase, which the railroads will ask for, has not been determined but 25 per cent has been mentioned commonly as the amount. Operating expenses it has been estimated, have increased about 35 per cent and the deficit incurred by the government in the operation of the railroads in the first eight months of this year was approximately $290,000,000.

Federal Agents Probe Liquor Law Bribery

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Federal agents were out today with subpoenas for a score of cafe and saloon owners and several politicians whose names were brought into the alleged prohibition immunity graft plot late yesterday in a statement by Charles P. McGarver, one of five men indicted on charges of criminal conspiracy in connection with the plot.

John A. Minton, special ass't federal attorney assigned to the case said the men would be examined before a federal grand jury beginning Monday. McGarver, Mr. Minton said, had given the authorities much valuable information on the alleged graft plot.

JUDGE QUAIL HANDS G. O. P. MEETING MORE GANG "BULL"

Old "Simpson or Socialism"
Cry is Again Brought Out From Storage.

EVERYTHING TALKED

Except Very Thing Voters
Want to Hear at Republican Gathering.

George H. Quail, prominent part in the republican machine which for years has told the republican voters of Lima when to get on and off and where, last night served notice upon the members of his party that each and everyone had to vote for their hand-picked candidate, Colonel John Harley.

Quail made a long-winded speech at a republican rally, at which he waved the stars and stripes and tried to make everyone believe that Harley was really in the race for mayor. He even went so far as to say that Burkhardt had no chance at all—grand old political bunk.

20 Years

During the twenty years in which we have developed the largest retail optical patronage in the state we have assembled—

2. An unexcelled equipment comprising the latest accepted scientific instruments.
3. Labor saving and efficiency making devices for the satisfactory conduct of our service.

Our scientifically unified system affords you the services of a skilled eye specialist, optician and eyeless mechanics all under one roof.

And these together make each Rogers office a safe and reliable place to have your eyes examined and correct eye-glasses prescribed, mounted and adjusted.

which the republican gang spreads at each municipal election.

Digging down deep into the past Quail and other speakers dragged out Carl Rowlands' campaign cry of "Simpson or Socialism," waved it aloft and assured each and every man present that unless Harley was elected Lima would immediately become a seething Russian soviet municipality.

Knowing that Harley's chances are fading with every hour, because he has the mill stone of the gang hanging around his neck, Quail did his pitifully best to rally the small bunch of republicans left. He assured the republicans everything under the sun—

BUT THE VERY THING THEY HAD COME TO HEAR FROM HARLEY HIMSELF—that he would repudiate the present city administration and not put Gale, Simpson and McNeany back in control of the city, wasn't said.

Quail couldn't do this in his speech, and Harley had studiously avoided saying that he would drop the three men, and other of their hangers-on.

Each republican meeting only emphasized the big, outstanding weakness in their campaign—that they have the gang hosing every move and the voters, sick and tired of the whole republican administration have determined to use the Burkhardt broom and clean the whole bunch, and the gang as well, out of the city hall.

Judge Quail, who is quite an orator and who can say a lot of things politically without meaning anything at that, beat all around the bush, went up and down the country, assured the republicans that the Wilson administration had been a flat failure attacked everyone in sight.

But he neglected to say that Harley has refused members of his own party to get rid of the "noted trio." And that is why only one half of the republican voters of Lima will vote for Burkhardt.

Every democrat in the city will stand solid for Burkhardt because he will clean out the city hall, put new and efficient men of unquestioned standing, in the important city positions.

Republican gang leaders in their meetings are trying hard to raise the old "Simpson or Socialism" cry, but it's deadlier than a back alley cut run over by a Gramm-Berstein truck.

All the gang effort can not rally the republican vote for the city hall combination this year and for this they will be kicked at the polls, because of his mill stone, associated in politics. He had his chance to come out squarely and repudiate the gang but he didn't do it. Instead he endorsed the "We Point With Pride" administration.

FUNERAL HELD TODAY
Funeral services for Mr. Gladys L. Hunsicker who died Tuesday at her home in 700 City Hall, were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the First Congregational church. Burial was made in Woodlawn cemetery. Besides the parents, her husband and one infant son, born last week survive her. Two sisters and three brothers are also left to mourn her death.

HOLDERS WILL TURN W. U. CLOCKS BACK

Manager Oglerie Is Distributing Keys and Instructions.

Manager E. B. Oglerie of the local branch of the Western Union Telegraph Co. is distributing keys and printed instructions for setting back the Western Union clocks one hour effective at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. At this time the daylight saving law passed as a war measure will become ineffective.

Manager Oglerie advises that the clocks be advanced eleven hours by turning the minute hand forward rather than turning the clock backward. This he explains, brings the hour hand back to exactly the proper position without possible injury to the delicate mechanism of the clocks, where by turning the hour hand either forward or backward the result is not so sure to be satisfactory.

In cases where users of the Western Union clocks do not wish to make the change themselves, the Western Union will send a man, telephoned to that effect. However, it is not satisfactory owing to the time it would require one man to change all the clocks in use in the city. In the advice of making the change is before returning Saturday night.

FEDERAL SURVEY SHOWS COST OF U. S. CLERKS LIVING

WASHINGTON, October 24.—Official estimates for a "health and decency" budget for government clerks place the minimum annual expenses of a family of five at $2,262; an unmarried woman at $1,082 and a single man at $1,000.

These figures were made public today by Dr. Royal Meeker, chief of the bureau of labor statistics in connection with the investigation of federal salaries by the congressional committee.

The food item in the family budget expense is put at $773.92. The clothing bill for the year is put at $513.72, of which the husband is allotted $121.16, the wife $166.48, 11 year old boy $96.60, the five year old girl $82.50 and the baby (two years) $47.

Housing, fuel and light are placed at $428 and miscellaneous expenses at $546.82, a total of $2,262.47.

If the wife was especially competent in the art of shopping, did her own sewing and practiced all household economies, the budget might be reduced, it was explained to a "rock-bottom minimum" of $2,025.58.

The bureau, in compiling these estimates, makes a hat allowance for the wife of one and a half hats a year; $10 for a winter hat and $5 for a summer one, the winter hat to be worn two years. An item of $8.40 is allowed for a newspaper. The family amusement appropriation is set at $40, which also includes magazines, though in general, such luxuries as the latter, it was pointed out, are to be enjoyed at the public library.

GERMAN PRISONERS USED TO CLEAR UP OLD BATTLEFIELDS

Belgians Return to Former Homes—Some Live in Broken Tanks.

FORESTS STRIPPED

Many Villages Wiped Entirely Off Earth Without a Trace.

DIXMUDE, Belgium.—Scattered over the low-lying country between Ypres and Dixmude, scenes of many a battle, are thousands of German prisoners under guard of British and Belgian soldiers as well as civilians who have been called into the gigantic task of clearing up the battlefields and once more making it fit for habitation. They are stacking shells, recovering brass cases and burying the dead. There is a military efficiency about their work and the progress they are making is most gratifying for all the governments concerned.

One may still see the ruins of many British and Belgian tanks, caught in the German shell fire, now twisted and broken wrecks. Now they lie rusted and neglected, mere shells of the once powerful machines which went into action. Some of them are almost buried in the mud, others hang precariously on the edge of dilapidated trenches, while still others stand high in the field where they were abandoned by such of their crews as survived. Many of them are torn and riddled as though their heavily armored sides were little more than paper.

Perhaps their most impressive feature of this dead and blackened landscape are the trees. Gaunt and stark, stripped of every limb and branch, they stand out against the skyline, as many lifeless sticks. Whole villages have disappeared, ground by the big guns into mud and dust without one vestige remaining to mark their location. This is true of Poelcapelle, whose former existence would not have been suspected had not a Belgian major volunteered the information that here his battalion had once held its main street for three days.

Many live shells still remain in the fields, and today as a party was passing within a few miles of Dixmude they were startled by the explosion of one of these "duds."

Reconstruction is going forward. Near the shack reared by one thrifty Belgian who has returned to the site of his former home is a disabled tank, a shell having ripped through its side and exploded in the interior. From one side of the tank to that humble shack, stretches a clothes line, and on given days the family washing is hung out to dry.

Children of that family play in the broken tank, enacting as they have often heard related, the grim story of the battle. That is, they play when they are not at work, for Belgium is using even its children to rebuild its homes.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally if You Eat Meat Regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of sending out about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

PUSHING WORK ON RESERVOIR PARK

CELINA, Oct. 24.—Edmond Brandts, owner of Morocline Park, has men at work on the south side of the park looking after such work as needs to be done before the state dredge is put to work to make the backfill along the north pavement wall.

Mr. Brandts has been in direct communication with the state for some time regarding the need of the backfill along and in the vicinity of Morocline Park, and he has been given the promise that the work so long delayed will be done in the immediate future.

County Superintendent of Schools Catterman from State Superintendent F. B. Pearson, a movement is advocated in the first week in November to observe "Better English Week" by the school pupils of Mercer county. The communication is addressed principally to the teachers asking that they instruct their pupils in the correct use of the English language.

SAVINGS

The purpose of The Allen County Savings & Loan Company in paying five per cent. interest on deposits is two fold.

It encourages the man or woman who is trying to accumulate a fund to purchase a home or for the "Rainy Day."

And the money so received by this company is loaned to others to purchase or improve homes.

First mortgage on real estate is always required for loans, making the very best security for the company and the depositor.

A large proportion of the accounts at this institution are those directed here by old patrons.

which were voted down at the August primary.

They will cover Main street repaving, $88,000; bridges over Ottawa river at Elm and North streets, $113,000, retaining walls for Ottawa river, $183,000, sidewalk intersections, $6,500 and North Shore Drive improvements, $12,000.

Rupert speaking of these issues said:

The only object the city has in asking the people to authorize these issues by vote is, to keep the Sinking Fund and interest payments outside of the city's operating expenses, but within the 15 mill maximum of the Smith law. The above figures are all based on our city engineer's estimates, and the bonds will not be issued this year or even next year, but we all know these improvements must be made and whoever is to run the city, must have finances to do it, which will be small enough per figures recently published, therefore all that are interested in the future progress of our city should get behind these bond issues and push.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

VAN WERT CO. TO DECIDE ROAD LEVY

VAN WERT, Oct. 24.—Among the propositions to be submitted to voters of Van Wert county at the election November 4, is that pertaining to the two mill levy for road purposes, the levy to be in addition to the present levy and exempted from limitations for ten years.

Action permitting this proposition to be submitted to the people was taken by the state legislature, county commissioners not having been allowed in the past to raise the levy because the county has within its townships which in turn have within them municipalities and districts, all taxing units unto themselves.

D. E. Jones has filed suit against the Kaskaskia Live Stock Insurance Co., in which he seeks to recover $1,000 alleged to be due him as insurance on a horse, "Storm King," insured in the defendant company. The plaintiff alleges that the premium of $80 a year for the insurance was paid on the horse and that the company has failed to make any payment to him since the death of the animal. H. L. Conn and Clark Good are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Solomon Stem, a native of Van Wert, well remembered by older residents of the county, died October eighteenth at Denver, Colorado, after a sickness of one year due to hardening of the arteries. Aged seventy-nine years. He was a brother of Mrs. John Grenamier, of South avenue, and Mrs. B. Weagler, of Ohio City and of Hartwell Stem of St. Paul, Minn. He is also survived by his wife and two children.

Vera Davies Jones was arrested at Chicago and returned to Defiance to answer to a charge of bigamy. Recently she married Howard Mollencup, of Defiance, at Chicago, but it was found that the girl had been married at Newport, Ky. July 23, 1919, to a Ross L. Jones, of Dayton, and that Jones had brought divorce proceedings against her on September 22. The divorce proceedings are still pending. She is also a ward of the Juvenile court at Dayton.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The Y. W. C. A. of the Calvary Reformed church with their leader, Miss Minnie Sontag, enjoyed a Halloween party at the Cantigny home, on North West street, Wednesday evening.

It was beyond a doubt a handsome party, and the decorating committee together with the refreshment committee had outdone themselves in making this a most attractive pageant.

All were masked, and there was a weird atmosphere supplied by the burning incense, gruesome lighting effects, and ghosts stationed here and there about the rooms. Quite an attractive feature was the old witch fortune teller who had her corner of the room arranged so as to resemble a cave, and where the pot was kept boiling continually.

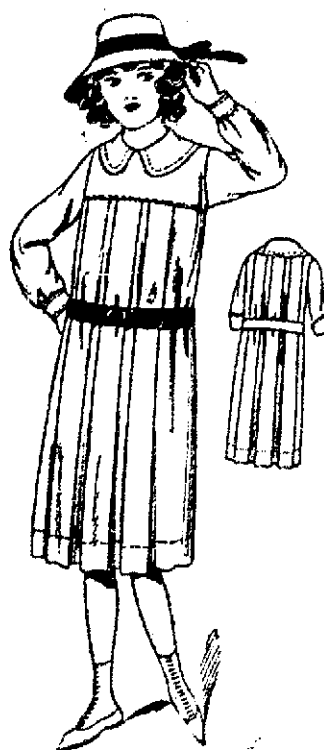

Those present to enjoy the evening were Miss Katherine Conway, Miss Irene Clover, Miss Helen Edstrand, Miss Bada Evans, Miss Ethel Jaeky, Miss Florence Sellers, Miss Mary Sassel, Miss Edna Young and Miss Sontag.

The City Federation of Women's clubs have announced that they will hold their October meeting this afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. center, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. A delightful musical program has been prepared by Mrs. J. E. Dexter and her committee. Tea will be served at the close of the afternoon's program by the Economic committee.

The program for the afternoon will be as follows: Americanization, Mrs. Beecher Moke; "Art," Mrs. E. A. Williams; "Hon. Newton D. Baker's Address," Mrs. M. U. B. Sanger; "Legislation," Mrs. Grace Enck; "Music Notes," Mrs. Frank Boone; "Library Extension and Literature," Mrs. P. P. Stafford; "Political Equality," Mrs. Ross Mullen; "Public Health," Dr. Josephine Pierce; "The Election and Silver Anniversary Banquet," Mrs. John Roby; "The Y. W. C. A. Outlook," Miss Pauline Sage.

THE ADVENTURES of a Married Flirt

by M.K.B.

"No decent woman," Paul's words recurred to me again and again throughout the early morning hours when I tossed restlessly on a couch drawn in front of the window. The night was stifling, with that hot breathless silence that presages a thunderstorm. The electricity generating in the atmosphere together with the excitement of the event I had just passed through, combined to make me thoroughly wide-awake and restless. Even the filmy fabrics of the robe I wore seemed to burn my flesh.

"No decent woman." For the first time in my life I felt real remorse knowing the stigma I had placed on Elizabeth Carlton. On the other hand I experienced a sort of indignation that such a phrase should have been applied to an action of mine. I knew that Paul would have uttered the same condemnation, perhaps much stronger, had he known that earlier in the evening I had been in the same compromising situation as Mrs. Carlton and with no justifiable excuse.

In all fairness, I had to admit that I had placed myself deliberately in a questionable class, innocent as my escapade was and born, as it also was, of midsummer ennui. But at last my craving for excitement and adventure had carried me too far and it was high time to call a halt. I proved, of course, that I could successfully weather the equivocal situation I had created.

In accordance with my usual egotism, I felt no remorse for my foolish escapade, or for the breach of good taste which had prompted it, not to mention its potential injury to Paul, but only for its ultimate result in reducing me to the classification of "no decent woman."

I resented the perfectly justifiable term because it revealed to me beyond equivocation the issue to which I had been endeavoring to close my eyes; that my whims and caprices, which I and a kindly circle termed "piquant," could likely receive a different characterization from a blunt world. The standards of the world are many and diverse, but the standard it has set for women is capable of but one interpretation. A woman may be as virtuous as a winged angel, but if she doesn't act it, she is without recourse.

Like many another rebel since the world began, I lamented the conventions of my unimaginative civilization which would make of us all a mold, incapable of individual interpretation.

"I've never broken a moral law in my life," I told myself defiantly. "I don't like more than is absolutely necessary to feel, and I even give a street car conductor my fare when he has forgotten to collect it. Why should I bother about a lot of silly conventions that don't mean anything and are only a bore?"

I recalled how Dan Magruder, honeymooning with his war bride, had always excused his numerous short-comings by declaring he was a "naturalist," harkening to the rules of nature rather than those of a man-made convention.

All of the clever people of history were noted for their individuality and not one of them was conventional. "I finally decided comfortably."

But in my eagerness to find justification for inexcusable folly, I completely overlooked the fact that I was not a genius, merely a frivolous reckless girl with an abnormal desire for admiration.

A flash of blinding lightning rent the heavens and the crash of thunder shook the building. I threw on a negligee and went out on the balcony. I adore electrical storms. The wildness of combatant elements rouses something primitive in me. On horse-back, or in a motor car, I love to ride madly before a storm keeping pace with the racing clouds, the wind in my face and the thunder threatening to crush the universe about my ears. It is so the Valkyries must have ridden in the lightning - pierced blackness of the Norse night.

I lifted my arms to the caress of the rising wind.

"Nell, for Heavens sake, what are you doing out there?"

Paul, in a hastily donned dressing gown, dragged me into my room.

"I came in to see if the storm had frightened you and here I find you tempting the lightning on an exposed balcony."

I laughed wildly feeling the con-tastion of the storm.

"I love it. Let's go back until the rain comes."

But Paul held me firmly, regard-ing me with an anxious look.

"I wonder if I married a woman after all, or the reincarnated spirit of a wild creature?"

ARCTIC EXPLORER
WILL RECOMMEND
USE OF REINDEER

Stefansson Spent Several Weeks in Northwest Territory on His Return.

HELPS LIVING COST

United States Has Already Recognized Importance of Industry in Alaska.

WINNEBEG, MAN.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the noted Arctic explorer, who returned from the polar regions several months ago and who has spent the summer in the Canadian Rockies writing a book is returning to Ottawa to urge the Federal Government to favorably consider his recommendations for reindeer and musk-oxen ranches in the unsettled regions of Northern Canada.

Stefansson spent several weeks in the northwest territory on his way back to civilization. He holds that the country is perfectly adapted to the reindeer and musk-oxen industry and declares that the government not only can use this plan to open this territory to settlement but that it can put reindeer meat on the market and help reduce the high cost of living. Much of the unrest in Canada has officially been charged to soaring prices for necessities, particularly food and clothing.

Has Many Uses

"It's an old story—the tale of the reindeer in Lapland," said Stefansson upon his arrival here from Lake Louise, "Chicago packers often boast that they can use every part of the hog, including the squeal. Why, Laplanders had this idea a thousand years ago. The reindeer provides them with food, fuel, clothing, household materials and implements for hunting.

"The United States government has already recognized the industry and is importing reindeers to Alaska. This move has been undertaken partly in the interest of the Eskimos. Their ordinary means of earning a living have been wrecked by Anglo-Saxon competition. The American government started the industry with 1,280 head of reindeer and at present I understand they have 200,000 head, not withstanding the fact that 20,000 carcasses are used for food annually.

"Approximately 1,000,000 square miles of virgin country in the wonderfully watered Canadian northland is available for this industry. In a few years we could have millions of these valuable animals. It is quite possible to keep 50 animals on a square mile of this land.

"The reindeers probably would have to be imported from Norway. They would cost about $75 each over there and probably would cost the government about $125 each when delivered on the grazing grounds. A herd of 1,000 would give us a good start for, once in their new home, the cost of maintenance would be very low. There would not be any barns to build nor any hay to cultivate, nor any woods to be felled. One man can look after 1,000 reindeer."

Stefansson believes that northern Quebec, Labrador, northern Yukon territory and the country north of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are all available for the Arctic animals.

GERMANY CLAIMED AS NEXT NAT. VOTE PROHIB.

WESTERVILLE, O.—That Germany is likely first European country to liquor traffic is the belief of Ernest H. Cherrington, an official of the national Anti Saloon League and executive secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, an organization represented by temperance brewery property in other countries and testimony in the Senate investigation of the German-American alliance seems to indicate that possibly there may have been a connection between some brewer, Cherrington said, "that high German interest in beer and wine making was not confined to the Fatherland, but that the Hohenzollerns were owners, either openly or every interest in the United States and the former imperial ruler."

But the thing that will have most weight in Germany, perhaps, is the influence of the Scandinavian countries, which either are dry or nearly so. Germany is a neighbor of them and closely allied in race and language. What they do is of vital interest to Germany."

CORN COMES OFF LIKE BANANNA PEEL

"GETS-IT" LEAVES TOE SMOOTH AS YOUR PALM. NEVER FAILS. Ever peel off a banana skin? Well that's the way "Gets-It" peels off any corn or callus. It's a picnic. Nothing else in the world will do it.

"2 Drops of 'Gets-It.' Good-bye Corns!"
but "Gets-It" because of the new secret principle in the "Gets-It" formula. "Gets-It" does away forever with "contraptions," "wraps" plasters, ointments that rub off, blood-letting knives, and scissors that snap into the "quick." "Gets-It" eases pain. It takes but a second or two to use "Gets-It." There's no fussing or trouble. It dries immediately. You put your stocking right back on again. Your corn will come off painlessly in one complete piece. That's common sense. It never fails. "Gets-It" the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Lima and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Hunter's Drug Store.

COW ON TRACK IS CAUSE OF WRECK

A cow on the track was the cause of the derailment of a freight train on the Ohio Electric, 2 miles north of Ottawa, about 9 o'clock, Thursday evening, when five cars were derailed. One man, Robert Rosenberg was slightly injured.

Rosenberg is a resident of Milton, and was taken to Ottawa after the accident, Thursday, but was removed to his home, Friday morning. The motorman on the car, T. A. Weymouth, was not injured, it is reported.

The service of the late car leaving Lima was not interfered with, with the exception of passengers being obliged to transfer at the scene of the accident.

Wrecking crews were sent out from Lima and the track was repaired so that cars were running through by 8:30, Friday morning, said C. C. Fast, superintendent of lines.

HUSBAND SAYS HE SUPPORTED FAMILY

Joseph William Waltermeir filed a cross petition in common pleas court Friday in answer to the divorce petition filed by his wife August 27. Waltermeir asks custody of the children. He states in his petition that he had provided for his wife and children up to the time of their separation in March and at that time he furnished her with money, thinking she was going to visit relatives.

His wife he claims, filed an affidavit in Justice Hamilton's court charging non-support of the children. The case was dismissed, he says at the cost of the plaintiff, and then she entered suit for divorce.

The Lima Times' Fascinating Fiction Feature

TODAY—"The Virginians," by W. M. Thackeray.
TOMORROW—"The Pilot," by James Fenimore Cooper.

THACKERAY

twice in his later years did William Makepeace Thackeray seek temporarily another career than that of authorship. Shortly before writing "The Virginians" he tried unsuccessfully to capture a seat in parliament. Politics had always attracted him, although his temperament was wholly unsuited to popular demands.

He was a radical, sympathizing with Richard Cobden in his anti-corn law fight. "I would like to see all men equal," he wrote in 1840, "and this blasted aristocracy blasted to the winds of all winds." He was nevertheless absolutely opposed to any attempt on the part of the people to win their rights by force. His attitude is interesting in the light of today's radicalism. It is also his firm advocacy of Ireland's right to have home rule.

After finishing "The Virginians," Thackeray became the first editor of the Cornhill Magazine. His own wide reputation practically ensured the initial success of the venture. Of the first number 120,000 copies were sold. The most distinguished writers of the day were attracted as contributors through the editor's prestige, and the Cornhill furnished magazine readers with better fiction and articles than can be found today in any successful English periodical.

Although Thackeray was a good editor in many ways, he was handicapped by too tender a heart. He could not refuse poems and articles, however uninspired and even maudlin. If the writers needed money, a few months later he gladly resigned his position and returned to novel writing.

"THE VIRGINIANS"

By WILLIAM MAKEPEACE THACKERAY.
(Condensation by Sara Ware Bassett)

Virginia in the days of Washington's early manhood; Virginia with its vast tobacco plantations sloping to the river; its myriads of slaves; its great estates where, loyal to the King, the master was above all else a gentleman and a sportsman, and the mistress a lady who directed the affairs of her household with the imperiousness of a princess of the blood; a Virginia of stiff brocades, of hoops and powdered wig; a land where hospitality ran free and good wine was never wanting—such is the setting chosen by Thackeray for his sequel to "Henry Esmond," the tale entitled, "The Virginians."

It was a picturesque period in history, and the author of the novel was indeed daring to present to us in the first pages of his book George Washington, the young Colonial Colonel, who comes hither in his coach from his adjoining estate to visit Madam Esmond, the daughter of our old friend Henry Esmond at her American home, "Castledown," and there meet her nineteen-year-old twin sons George Esmond, Warrington and Harry Warrington. Hither, also, comes George Braddock, the English commander who expects with the aid of his forces to bring about an end to the French and Indian war; and in his company is Benjamin Franklin, the Philadelphia printer.

At Thackeray had courage to present to us the flesh these familiar celebrities!

But he does it delightfully. We see George Washington, a frequent and welcome guest at "Castledown," getting the Widow Esmond with friendship so ardent that her sons, jealous of every attention paid their mother, mistake his gallantry for a tenderer sentiment and are on the point of challenging the Colonel to a duel when they discover their error. Afterward George, the elder twin by the narrow margin of a half-hour, goes forth with Braddock and Washington into the campaign that costs the English General his life, and in which the King's troops are defeated by the French and Indians. From this disastrous pilgrimage Washington's young aid, George Esmond, Warrington falls to return and great is the grief at "Castledown." Madam Esmond reproaches Colonel Washington that he should come back unscathed when her son is missing. As for Harry, the loss of his elder brother so overwhelms him that it is deemed wise to send him on a sea voyage to England in the hope of diverting him from constantly mourning the twin he so devotedly loved.

Hence we next behold Harry at the home of his English cousins at "Castledown" where, we regret to say, he at first receives but a scant welcome. My Lord Castledown and the ladies would not have located either Harry or his black servant Gumbo had not Aunt Bernstein, the Beatrix Esmond of Harry's grandfather's day, been a guest at the house. Although the Baroness is now old and has lost her beauty she has not lost her money and because the impoverished Castledowns are eager to inherit the latter they dare not oppose her. She will have Harry Warrington welcomed to the home of his ancestors.

Therefore the young American is granted a tardy invitation to the family estate to which his grandfather, Henry Esmond, although the rightful heir, waived all claims before emigrating to Virginia.

Harry is an ingratiating young fellow and his Aunt Bernstein promptly falls in love with him, urging him to go with her to Tunbridge Wells, a fashionable resort whither she is bound. The shrewd old woman is insistent in her demand for she sees that the unsophisticated lad has already developed a passion for the Right Honorable Maria Esmond, my Lord Castledown's sister, and a woman more than twice Harry's age.

The boy himself realizes his mistake but he is an Esmond and a Virginian, and for such there is no drawing back.

Madam Bernstein is not so scrupulous, however.

Harry is young and, as his black servant shamelessly asserts, royally rich.

He can do better for himself and the family than throw himself away on a scheming woman who is penniless, and who has none too good a reputation. Indeed there is scarcely one Castledown whose past would bear inspection. Even the esquire of the Baroness herself is dingy and tarnished. She is nevertheless kind-hearted and sincerely fond of Harry and therefore with coach and postillions, and outriders, and trunks, and servants she bears him and his Lady Maria away with her to Tunbridge Wells.

On the journey Harry is thrown from his horse and his shoulder being injured he is carried into the nearest house which proves to be the home of Colonel Lambert whose wife was an old school friend of Harry's mother. Of course the Lambert cannot do enough for the boy. Theo and Hetty, the charming daughters of the family, are never tired waiting on him; and when he rides away to join his aunt four days later he has formed a strong friendship with the Lambert family. Already the memory of the fair Maria is a bit dimmed.

Ah, when he reaches Tunbridge Wells what a little world of fashion and corruption it is! Our Virginian has never seen any thing of the like before. Nor does he see it now with discerning eye. The little painted dancer whom the Earl of March has in his company must surely be as beautiful as she looks; and the men of rank with their gambling and drinking are gentlemen all, in simple Harry's estimation.

The fame of the Virginian has preceded him. The tales told of his wealth have rolled up until he has become a veritable prince with gold uncounted, numberless acres of land, slaves, tobacco fields—diamond mines if you will. As Aunt Bernstein has spread some of these tidings she begs her nephew not to disgrace her by contradicting them, and therefore what can he do? There is no choice but to live the rich Virginian; spend money freely, gamble as does all the world of fashion; and these things Harry Esmond Warrington proceeds to do.

It is not a difficult role to play.

All Tunbridge is at his feet.

Jewellers, drapers, dancing-masters wait on him.

He gambles and wins—continues to gamble and win.

He becomes known as the "Fortunate Youth."

Everything he touches turns to money.

But the lad does not become a profligate; there is too fine stuff in him. He is foolish, mayhap; but he is ever an Esmond and a Virginian. Men like him because he is honest; women because he is chivalrous.

Again and again Aunt Bernstein tries to break off his engagement to Maria. She even appeals to that lady herself. But Maria will not give up her treasure. A rich and handsome young husband is no easy prize to win. She has Harry's word and she will hold him to it.

The Baroness is in despair. She will send Maria home and Harry to London on some trumped up errand or other.

The boy has never seen London and what a realm of enchantment it is! The fireworks at Vauxhall, the theatre where Garrick plays to royalty; Dr. Johnson, Sir Joshua Reynolds, and the wits of the day whom one meets at White's or the Cocoa-Tree! What is Tunbridge Wells after seeing London! Harry takes lodgings—luxurious lodgings, for must he not maintain the dignity of his family? And he goes to White's in his chair where the gay macaronis are only too ready to welcome him and gamble the gold from out his pocket. To London, too, come the Lamberts and with them General Wolfe whom Harry has already met at Tunbridge. Everybody comes to London, and an alluring career our Virginian leads there.

Then suddenly his luck changes. One evening he loses at White's. He loses a second evening, and a third. He plays with my Lord Castledown (my lord's honor at cards might be challenged) and all his horde of wealth is swept away.

Creditors appear. Tradesmen who were servile but a day or two before now become insolent. Presently on returning from an evening party Harry Warrington is arrested for debt and led away to Chancery Lane.

It is incredible! The misfortune is, however, merely temporary, he tells himself. Someone of the family friends who have shared his money and drunk his wine will, of course, come forward and go bail for him. He writes to first one and then another. Not one of them will aid him. The Baroness sends a proposal that if he will give up his marriage to Lady Maria she will pay his debts and release him from his present embarrassing dilemma. This Harry refuses to do. Has not Maria but a moment before come to him loyally offering to give him her jewelry and trinkets? Keen-eyed woman of the world that she is, Maria has not miscalculated the effect of this dramatic action. It binds Harry to her more securely than ever.

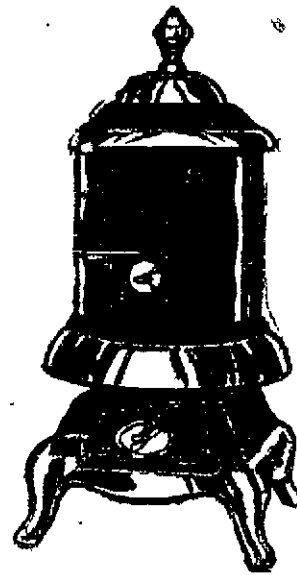

It is just as Colonel Lambert and General Wolfe are coming to the boy's aid that a miracle occurs.

Into the jail stalks George Esmond Warrington, the beloved brother who was supposed to have been killed two years before. He quickly discharges Harry's indebtedness and the two go away together happy as children.

But what a revolution the appearance of the elder brother makes in society's attitude toward poor Harry! He is no longer the favored child of fortune. Debts are nothing—everybody has those. Nor is the jail a disgrace. Many a darling of fashion has passed a night there. But to be a younger son! Society turns up its nose. Accordingly it is George Esmond Warrington who now becomes the idol while Harry is thrust into the background. Acquaintances pass him by. What right had the wretch to masquerade as heir to the Esmond estates? The story of his brother's rescue from death is a thin one. No doubt the scapegrace knew all along that George was alive.

Had there not been the deepest and most enduring affection between the twins such a state of affairs might perhaps have created a breach between them. As it is they pay no heed to society's cruel tongue.

George meets the Baroness, the Castledowns, and the Lamberts and immediately falls in love with Theo. He also meets Lady Maria and after telling her that Harry will now have no fortune that far-sighted worldling breaks off the match of her own accord. It was the money she wanted, not Harry.

Our young rascal is jubilant enough to be free and in due time casts in his lot with the army, going with the English to France and later with General Wolfe against Canada. In both these campaigns he wins distinction which reinstates him with his former friends.

But he has had enough of London. His mother is growing old and he will go to her.

He arrives just as the colonies are on the brink of revolution.

Madam Esmond is still a stout royalist; but Harry, a child of the younger generation, is a Virginian, an American. He joins General Washington, the friend of his youth, and serves under him through the war for independence.

In the meantime George Esmond Warrington, dressed in a coat of scarlet, is serving the King in the command of General Clinton.

The two factions clash, but the Warringtons contrive to meet and exchange greetings. Their politics may differ but their hearts are unchanged one toward the other.

Eventually George weds Theo Lambert and settles down in the old world, an English gentleman; but General Harry Warrington ends his days in Virginia.

On the library wall of one of the most famous writers of America there hang two crossed swords which his relatives wore in the great War of Independence. The one sword was gallantly drawn in the service of the King, the other was republican soldier," says Thackeray. "The Colonel in scarlet, and the General in blue and buff hang side by side in the wainscotted parlor of the Warringtons in England, their love never having materially diminished, however angrily the contest divided them.... These effigies have always gone by the name of 'The Virginians' by which name their memories are christened."

All the old-time wheel-horses of the Democratic party in Lima and many new faces, all lined up solid for the election of Frank Burkhardt and the solid Democratic ticket, made members of the party feel enthusiastic over the coming balloting, when a big rally was held at headquarters Thursday night.

Every element of the Democratic party is back of Burkhardt, and the entire ticket and this is in marked contrast with the republican ranks, where a large element of the party is laying lines daily to defeat Harley, because of his stand with the gang.

The big crowd not only filled Democratic headquarters, but even overflowed out into the street and never had a city campaign called forth so much enthusiasm. The party seems victory—it is in the air, and with every element of the party working for the ticket, and with fully half of the republicans working for Burkhardt, there is nothing to it but Burkhardt.

The turnout which was the biggest of the present campaign became no impressed with the vitality of the question before the voters of Lima, that when they left, it had been firmly imbedded in their minds, that the real issue lies between Burkhardt and Blank.

Judge Becker, Judge Hughes, Judge Kilger and Judge Hopkins were all present and spoke to the gathering on the importance of the issue. The fact that these four judges were present, is the biggest indication that the entire party is united and that no compromise will be made by the Democrats to save the city from socialism, as was done two years ago. At that time the now age-worn cry of "Simpson or Socialism," alarmed many of the democrats and they flocked to the standard of the republican candidate, in order to save the city, as they thought, from socialism.

But since the G. O. P. has seen fit to play this game in every campaign, and has again adopted the old cry of "Harley or Socialism," the Democrats are determined to call their bluff. Democrats are not minimizing the danger that threatens the city, but they know that their candidate, Frank Burkhardt, is the only man who stands a ghost of a show to keep the city from socialism.

More Camouflage.

Regardless of how much effort the republican party is making to camouflage the real issue in the eyes of the voters, the conservative voters of the city intend to vote for Frank Burkhardt, as the logical man to defeat socialism, L. E. Ludwig, said, addressing the meeting.

Garling's Rabid Speech.

Another swat was taken at H. E. Garling, republican candidate for City Solicitor, for the speech he made on Tuesday night, in which, in the words of Francis Durbin, he knifed the greatest man of the nation, while he lay sick. Garling received only the most bitter denunciation from a number of the speakers for the calumny he heaped upon the President, and for his baby tactics in dragging national affairs into a municipal campaign.

Every speaker of the meeting voiced the prediction that the republican party is to be badly fooled if they think they can again make the Democratic voters listen to the changed siren's song of 1917, of "Harley or Socialism." Democrats are usually solidly and intend voting the straight Democratic ticket.

The republican gang's way of doing things is well emphasized in the manner in which they railroaded "Mont" Wingate out of city work after he had given 25 years to police work in Lima.

It is an example of what men, who are faithful to the city's interests and who give the best part of their lives that the people of this city may be protected against criminals, may expect at the hands of a gang which thinks only in terms of politics.

In Name of "Economy"

Wingate has a big circle of friends over the city who were incensed when the administration ousted him from his position as clerk of the municipal or criminal court.

While "Mont" was decapitated because of these "economy" necessities, the salaries of other city officials were moved up! Save $500 a year and spend a whole lot more—that's the idea of the men who will remain in office if Harley is elected.

Mont Wingate knows more crooks than any member of the present police force. While he is past the age where he would want to do active police work, his frequent advice to the members of the force would be invaluable.

Efficient Clerk

But as a police court clerk Wingate was a star. He was the best man to collect back fines and keep the work up the city has had. He was always the first man to appear at the office in the morning and usually the last to leave.

Now "Jimmy" Heffner, well known member of the gang, who does a lot of figuring and puts over a lot of deals for the boys at "headquarters," is installed in Wingate's place. Many a time visitors at his office find Police Judge Ernest Hopkins typing his warrants. Never before has a police judge had to do these things.

"Jimmy," they say is spending a lot of time electioneering for Colonel Harley, while "Mont" Wingate, who spent 25 years on the police force is not even drawing a pension after his many years of hard work on the force.

Mont Gets Boot

Great stuff! Of course the "economy" dodge is the one the gang uses. Save a little money on Wingate, put in Jimmy and everything is lovely.

Then the salaries of other offices were increased and the gang laughs one of those basso profundo hoo-lahs and twiddles its thumbs at the voters.

Sure, boys, step up and vote for Harley. Keep the old gang in power. "Harley or Socialism," is great stuff.

of All Foreigners in Citizenship.

In direct contrast to Harley, republican for mayor, who has ever told the voters of Lima what he expected to do, or whom he expected to appoint if elected, Frank Burkhardt, democratic candidate, again came forward with a frank statement of his intentions, Thursday night, at the mass meeting at democratic headquarters.

"The old bug-a-boo of the O. E. being held over my head to scare the people. All the connection I have had with the Ohio Electric has been as a working man, never as an executive. I lived and paid taxes in Lima 10 years before the Ohio Electric came here. I have over 500 relatives in Allen county. Do you suppose I intend to throw my city into the hands of a corporation, when my relatives for the last 50 years have lived in Allen county."

"If I am elected I intend to see that every foreigner, who comes to Lima, or is brought here by a corporation becomes Americanized, at the earliest possible moment. I shall take the matter up with the Y. M. C. A., Rotary Club, K. of C., Kiwanis Club, and all other civic organizations, and endeavor to have them head the movement."

BOY IS AWARDED JUDGMENT OF $437

Jury rendered a verdict, Friday, granting Arnold Richard Tipple, a minor, 12 years of age, $437.50 for injuries received when he was struck by an automobile belonging to Perry C. Collins, as alleged in a petition.

The boy, it is claimed was crossing the Erie Railroad tracks at the St. Johns road crossing when his was unable to extricate it. While thus caught, it is alleged, Collins crossed the track in a heavy automobile, striking the boy and causing injuries making him a cripple for life. $10,000 damage was asked.

DISPLAY TROPHIES IN LIMA SUNDAY

A room at Memorial Hall has been engaged by the advance committee of the large recruiting party which arrives in Lima sometime next Sunday for a two days stay. The room will be used to display their collection of war trophies, and will be open to the general public that evening. On Monday the party will pitch their tent on the square. There will be about 20 world war veterans in the recruiting party which comes here to boost recruiting in the army. They started from Camp Sherman several weeks ago.

Accommodations for the men have been obtained at the Y. M. C. A. during their stay in Lima, as it was impossible to find any hall or large quarters where they could be accommodated.

Three men Harvey A. Williams, Rebel Howard and Walter Davis enlisted in the army this week, and were sent to Toledo for final examination.

Thieves Steal Kegs of Whiskey

The theft of two kegs of whiskey and other liquid refreshments from the home of Henry Keller at 1200 West Market street, was reported Thursday night, according to the police.

Entrance was gained to the house. It is reported by forcing a rear door. Police have made no arrests.

Fowls are now plucked by an electric machine which pulls the feathers out by means of a vacuum.

BODY WILL MEET REPRESENTATIVES FROM THE COUNTRY

Good Roads Council And County Members Will Confer.

TO DISCUSS PARADE

Public Meetings Have Been Arranged For Coming Week.

Lima members of the Allen County Council of the Ohio Good Roads Federation will meet the eleven representatives from communities outside the city Friday night at the Chamber of Commerce when the final plans for the parade to be held Friday, October 31 will be discussed and furthered.

At a recent meeting these 11 representatives were chosen, and Secretary W. E. Clark communicated with each. Practically every one agreed to be present at Friday's meeting. The names of the representatives have not been made public, but it is assured each is a worker, and realizes just how much the passing of the two mill levy proposal will mean to the county.

On the day of the parade these representatives will address gatherings in the respective communities in which they reside. It is the opinion of the council that many persons throughout the county who have only given the proposal a passing thought will boost it if they have the project fully explained to them. This is what the speakers in the parade will endeavor to do.

Joe Hartline, publicity chairman, and Roger Boone, parade chairman, have selected the itinerary, but have given out no information concerning it. This will be placed before the meeting Friday night and if it meets with the approval of all, it will stand. However, it is subject to any change the body may see fit.

It has been decided that the automobiles will form on West Market and McDowell street at noon Friday, October 31st. Just as soon as the parade is formed it will proceed east on Market street, and after going through the Public Square, the procession will divide, one part going through the eastern section of the county while the other will travel in a westerly direction.

Every town of any size in the county will be reached, and arrangements will be made whereby there will be a gathering of interested citizens meet the procession in each town. Already Mr. Samuel Roeder in charge of posters and other advertising matter, is hard at work billing the towns and rural districts. Practically every automobile that comes into Lima departs with a sticker on the windshield urging voters to cast a ballot for the two mill levy, and thereby aid the county in asking its largest step in progress.

This coming week public meetings will be arranged, and Francis Durbin, who has charge of the speakers, will designate a talker for each meeting. This speaker will tell of the features of the two mill levy, and explain it fully to those present, urging them to support it.

It has been announced in the event that the project passes and those interested say it will, there will be a committee appointed which will co-operate with the county commissioners in the distribution of the money. In other words, this committee will see that the people of the county derive the largest possible benefit from the money raised by the two mill levy.

Northern Hopes To Win Game

Ada, Oct. 24.—Although Akron university won 24 to 0 last week, the Ohio Northern university grid-ers are working hard to get into first-class trim for the fray with Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware, Saturday. One thing that will be against the local collegians is the past history of the games between the two eleveners. Wesleyan and Northern have been rivals in athletics. In football the Delaware bunch won the past five seasons. This year Northern with the coaching brain of "Shifty" Bolen, former Ohio State end, is to make a desperate attempt to take the honors from its sister school.

Coach Bolen refuses to state whether he expects to make any radical changes in the line-up. At Monday's practice he sent the candidates through three and one-half hours of strenuous signal practice. The varsity will scrimmage with the freshmen each day until Friday, when the team leaves.

This week will see Eli Main, half-back, and Sherwood Seitz, heavy line man, in action. Both are showing well in practice.

Lame Shoulder.
This is a common form of muscular rheumatism. No internal treatment is needed. Apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely four times a day. This Liniment has proven especially valuable for muscular and chronic rheumatism and is certain to give quick relief. Chamberlain's Liniment is also most excellent for sprains and bruises.

Better Fix Up Your Mail Box

Notices are being sent out to patrons of the rural routes running out from Lima from postoffice authorities that if they have unpainted, loosely hung mail boxes, without names, they are acting in defiance of the law. It is practically impossible to remember the names of all of the farmers on the various rural routes, and there are a goodly number of these same patrons who have old boxes, without a name written on it.

Many others have boxes with the names written so illegibly or so dimly scarred that they are almost indiscernible. Mailboxes must be firmly hung on an individual post; the box approach must be in good condition; number of box and name of patron must appear on the side of the approach of carrier at least, and should really appear on both sides.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "laid" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "pick-up" the spirits. 10 and 25c.

when you returned? And then when you had finished reading it, all you had to do was put it back in the box for the collector to pick up and take back to the library?

Sounds a whole lot like the dreaming of some visionary prophet or the ravings of some fanatic, seeking a utopia, doesn't it? It's not, though. It's just a short explanation of the system the prison library at the Ohio penitentiary has been using for a number of years.

Relieves Monotony.
People on the "outside" have no idea what that library means to the nearly 3,000 men confined there. Often the men are overheard to remark that they don't know how they would have been able to stand the monotony of prison life and the long nights in their cells had books and magazines been denied them. Probably the best way to illustrate their appreciation would be to note some figures. There are about 12,000 books in the library, including works of fiction, science, law and the like. About half of these are duplicates, but at the end of each month when the number of books circulated during the period are totaled, those in charge of the library find that nearly 5,000 volumes have made the rounds.

Like Popular Fiction.
Popular fiction by authors such as Rex Beach, Jack London, Zane Grey, O'Connell, McClutchen, McGrath, Garretson, Mark Twain, and Booth Tarkington are always in demand at the library and the worst of it is that Chaplain T. O. Reed, who is in charge of the library, finds it impossible to supply the wants of the prisoners in these kinds of books. In the first place, the supply is limited to a point far below the demands, and in the second place, these books going out so constantly and being read by so many persons wear out in a short time. This might be remedied were it not for the fact that the prison library depends wholly upon the thoughtfulness of those "outsides" who keep the shelves of the library filled through donations of books from their homes.

Chance to Assist.
People with their freedom can do more good than they think possible toward the reforming and educating of those unfortunates in the penitentiary by sending to Chaplain Reed all books and magazines, on all subjects, for which they have no further use. Books outside the city should be sent by express.

So next time, you housewives of Ohio, when you dust out your library, just look over your collection of books and pick out those for which you have no further use. Then pack them up and send them to the penitentiary library. They'll help many a prisoner there toward leading a better and more useful life when he gets out.

Anti-Reds Get Fortified City Near Petrograd

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Krasnaya Gorka, a fortified city on the southern shores of the Gulf of Finland, about thirty miles west of Petrograd, has been taken by anti-Bolshevik troops, according to Helsinki advices.

South and southwest of Petrograd the northwestern Russian army seems to be making slow progress. Advices received here, however, would appear to indicate a slight advance by General Yudenitch during the last few days, it being said a severe struggle is in progress six and one-half miles south of the city. Soviet forces are reported to have arrived at Petrograd from Moscow and to be engaged in the battle.

General Denikine has again defeated the Bolsheviks in the Volga region, having driven the Soviet forces back near Kamyshin, north of Tsaritsyn, according to a wireless message from General Denikine's headquarters.

The soviet government claims to have broken in the apex of the great wedge driven northward toward Moscow by the Denikine army, the villages of Slavsk and Kromy having been taken. It is said the Denikine Cossacks are being pursued southward in this region.

In the handle of a new screw driver is mounted a dry battery flash light to facilitate its use in dark places.

COMPETITION CLOSE IN ALL DISTRICTS

Surprising Spirits From the Contestants Behind the Leaders Are Promised for the Future—Many Subscriptions Turned in On Last Offer—The Offer on New Subscriptions Will Allow 262,500 Votes—Figure It Out an Work.

(BY ARNOLD H. PRINE)

Whatever the outcome of the Times campaign may be, winners and losers alike will derive considerable benefit from the campaign. It will show the loyalty of friends, the requisites of success and the limitations of individuals. However there appear to be no quitters entered in this campaign and to date the friends of candidates have been highly loyal. Many volunteer coupons are sent in indicating that many people are interested, and also that there are a great many people available to solicit. See that no friend or relative remains unacquainted with the situation.

No one has presumed to make any prediction so far, but all candidates realize that the only way is to get out and hustle incessantly. Getting down to business, it is really surprising to see what can be accomplished. Systematic work is the winning ticket.

Considerable interest has been manifested in regard to the manner in which the campaign will be closed. The management feels that it is too early to get onto that detail, but when the time approaches to close the campaign an announcement of the exact manner of conducting the final count will be made. It is an old and tried out system, which has yet to create its first atom of dissatisfaction among those interested. We can absolutely assure every one that there will not be the least shadow of suspicion attached to any feature of the closing. The prizes will be awarded by disinterested parties.

However the time to stop out in front is now while the going is good. Why not decide the race now by a few days of determined effort? No one is so far ahead that the lead could not be wiped out by work.

The race is a toss-up to date. The rivalry between the candidates in all four districts increases as the campaign progresses. There are several hustlers in the contest who believe in having a big bunch of bonus votes in reserve for the finish. And they are using the right methods to secure them. They are taking advantage of the extra votes offered, and running their scores up among the thousands.

The 25 New Ones Will Count High. Have you figured what triple votes on 25 new subscribers means? Listen for a moment, then see if it is not worth going after. Two new subscribers for one year by carrier means that each regular subscription vote of 2,500 would count triple or 10,500 votes, 25 new subscribers would then count 25 times, 10,500 or 262,500 votes. Quite a bunch, and well worth several long walks or drives to accomplish. The candidate who lands this, will have gained a distinct advantage and have a right to begin to smile. Go after them every day and night and Don't Be Satisfied unless you get 25 New Subscribers.

FOR NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS ONLY

Beginning with Friday, October 24, and ending Thursday night, October 30, NEW subscriptions will count as follows. On the first five New Subscriptions you secure, I will double the regular number of votes. Every one after the first five will count TRIPLE or three times the regular scale. If any one contestant secures a string of 25 new subscribers between the above mentioned dates, the entire 25 will be counted triple. This means simply this: If you get only 5 or 4 NEW subscribers, you will receive no extra votes, but if you get 5 new ones, then the regular scale will be doubled. Ten new ones would mean double votes on 5 and triple on 5, etc. If you get a string of 25 new ones, they would count just three times the regular scale. This offer is figured out a smaller than last week, or any previous week, and it is larger than will ever be given again. Now is your time to hustle for new ones.

FOR OLD SUBSCRIPTIONS

From Friday, October 24 to Thursday, October 30 OLD subscriptions will count as follows:
For $12 in OLD Sub. (only) 6,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed.
For $15 in OLD Sub. (only) 9,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed.
For $30 in OLD Sub. (only) 25,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed.
For $45 in OLD Sub. (only) 50,000 EXTRA votes will be allowed.

CONVICT ON HONOR

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 24—William Benner, honor prisoner at the Ohio penitentiary here, was permitted to return to Akron unaccompanied today to visit his 14 year old daughter who is lying at the point of death. She was run down Tuesday by a train and both her legs were cut off. Benner was given his temporary release solely upon his honor to return.

BIG FOOD ORDER

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 21—An order for 20,000 pounds of bacon and other groceries totaling $10,000 worth was received at the army retail store here today, from the White-O-Grocery company of Wheeling, W. Va. The company has purchased the goods for free distribution to their employees, according to Lieutenant W. S. Murray officer in charge.

As an experiment one automobile manufacturer has turned out several cars with their bodies covered with imitation leather instead of paint. It is hoped to demonstrate that this is more enduring.

ROCKEFELLER FUND DOES GREAT WORK IN THE FAR EAST

Many Medical Schools and Hospitals Are Being Established.

REACH ALL CLASSES

Carries Relief to Remote Villages and Islands of the Sea.

SHANGHAI.—Following an investigation of the activities of the Rockefeller Foundation in China and the Philippines that was conducted through the summer months by Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the Foundation, it is understood extensions of the educational work in the Far East, particularly in China, will be authorized at the annual meeting of the Rockefeller Foundation in New York in December.

Existing medical schools and hospitals at various places in China have been receiving contributions and aid from the Foundation. The two most important of the organization in China are the Peking Union Medical College, under construction at the Chinese capital, and the Shanghai Medical College, the erection of which is expected to be authorized at the annual meeting.

Train Chinese
The main purpose of the institutions is to train Chinese as practitioners of medicine, according to the standards of American schools of the best class. The development of an indigenous medical profession of a high order and the ultimate transfer of this form of education to Chinese hands are announced aims of the Foundation in China. Three of the main buildings of the Peking Union Medical college will be opened this fall.

The project to build the Shanghai Medical college has been under consideration since 1915, but the difficulty of obtaining materials from abroad has prevented the beginning of the building. The Rockefeller Foundation is expected to decide at its December meeting when work will be started on the Shanghai institution.

Open New Schools
Pending the completion of the new schools, in addition to its other activities the China Medical Board has been granting fellowships and scholarships to medical missionaries for study in the United States and has been aiding native physicians, nurses and students to pursue courses in American schools. The expenditure of the Rockefeller Foundation in China in 1918 exceeded $2,000,000.

In the 300 odd islands of the Sulu Archipelago that are out of touch with the rest of the world a remarkable work has been done by the Rockefeller Foundation. The remote villages along the shores of Mindanao has been inaccessible to medical men until the Foundation placed in service the ship Busuanga. She is of 300 tons burden and is fitted with a modern operating room, a ten-bed hospital ward and a pharmacy. This floating dispensary touches regularly at points on the coasts of Mindanao and the islands Sulu Archipelago. The vessel works in cooperation with base hospitals that have been established at Jolo and Zamboanga. By the terms of an agreement the Rockefeller Foundation is to maintain the Busuanga in service for five years after which control of the vessel is to be taken over by the Philippine authorities.

VERY REASONABLE

Whiskey Could Be Procured
At 25 Cents Per Gallon.

Highly in contrast to the article published in the Times recently, giving a list of prices prevailing following the Civil war, is a list submitted by R. R. Baxter, of Elida, showing prices current between the years of 1848 and 1862. This list is taken from a time-book kept by James R. Kennedy for that period, and is a revelation to the payers of present day prices. The list of articles was accepted in exchange for labor at the rate of 50 cents per day. That wage would not be particularly enticing to the average man now, but if measured by the price of eggs it figures up to be the equivalent of about $10.40 per day, and as for whiskey, how long do you think it would take to hire all the workmen you want if you offered a daily stipend of two gallons of old time corn whiskey. The list follows:

April 1, 5 dozen eggs, 18 cents; April 10, 1 pair boots, $1.50; July 22, 77 lbs. flour, $1.54; Sept. 29, 16 lbs. pork, 43 cents; October 17, 1 gallon whiskey, 25 cents; 12 bu. corn, $2.40; May 4, 5 1-2 lbs. lard, 25 cents; May 4, 1 lb. gunpowder, 23 cents; June 22, 36 lbs. fish, $1.03; Sept. 1, 18 lbs. beef, 45 cents; Nov. 17, 1 barrel salt, $2; Nov. 18, 30 bushels corn, $2.60; Nov. 30, 77 lbs. pork, $1.52.

The following list was purchased in the busy days of 1851, when riotous living had caused the pay to be increased 50 per cent, or in other words to 75 cents per day.

May 1, 1 bu. peaches, $1.50; May 3, 129 lbs. flour, $2.87; Oct. 26, 166 lbs. pork, $6.64; Oct. 20, 1 bu. corn meal, 50 cents.

Now comes an entry in the time book made in 1862 which shows that Kennedy did not work by the day any longer but was doing piece work and no doubt often made as much as $1.50 per day. Given at these 101 shovels wages, though a saving can be seen on life insurance if nothing else. It will be noticed that "making 1 coffin" is listed at $1. With such prices you could look forward to quite a swifter funeral without being worried about life insurance premiums all through life. This entry reads as follows: Labor for Simeon McMullen, year of 1862. Making 1 shovel plow, 75 cents; making 1 set spokes, 50 cents; boring 40 hubs, 50 cents; making 1 coffin, $1.

IS KIDNAPING CASE

HAMMONTON, N. J., Oct. 21.—A woman kidnapper is in possession of missing Billy Dansey, somewhere in the middle west. Prosecutor Gas-kill, of this county, made this assertion today. Information received by his investigators from a passenger on a railway train leads to this belief he said.

The three year old child wandered away from his home near here fifteen days ago. Since that time a country wide search has been in progress.

A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Miss Kelly Tells How Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable
Compound Restored
Her Health.

Newark, N. J.—"For about three years I suffered from nervous breakdown and got so weak I could hardly stand, and had headaches every day. I tried everything I could think of and was under physician's care for two years. A girl friend had used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and she told me about it. From the first day I took it I began to feel better and now I am well and able to do most any kind of work. I have been recommending the Compound ever since and give you my permission to publish this letter."—Miss FLO KELLY, 478 So. 14th St., Newark, N. J.

The reason this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, was so successful in Miss Kelly's case was because it went to the root of her trouble, restored her to a normal healthy condition and as a result her nervousness disappeared.

ADVERTISING HAS CHANGED GREATLY

Present Day "Ads" Are
Unlike Those of Ye
Olden Times.

Instead of editors holding the only right to mold public opinion, it is now the advertising man that runs a close second, when it comes to writing something that the general public will read and be influenced by. Before advertising was general, say a quarter of a century or more ago a merchant would put a notice in the paper stating that he was selling a certain article at a certain price.

Times have changed however, and when an up to date merchant advertises he first writes what a splendid article he has on sale, how cheap it will be for just the one day, and how he only has a limited supply on hand to be sold to the early comers. The best advertising today is to have a message get before the people, not just a few readers, and to do it in the most attractive way possible.

The public has become educated to a high standard of advertising, and extravagant statements are losing their appeal. What the people want is an advertisement that talks right out, just as if it were a salesman telling them individually about that certain commodity.

WILL SPEAK ON CLASSIFICATION
PINDLAY—Two addresses opposing the proposed tax classification amendment will be delivered this week in Hancock county by Harry Caton, state lecturer of Ohio, and George H. Caton, state lecturer of Ohio. He will talk at Mount Cory tomorrow and Findlay Thursday.

EAGLES PLAN CELEBRATION
GALLON.—The local aeris of Eagles is making preparations for a public observance of Armistice Day, Nov. 11.

More Than Enough Is Too Much.
To maintain health a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the bodily waste and provide energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach trouble, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion revise your diet, eat sparingly especially of meats, masticate your food thoroughly. Let reason, not appetite control you. Immediately after supper and you will soon be feeling all right again.

TO BAR PADDING CENSUS FIGURES

COLUMBUS, Oct. 24.—Citizens or organizations will not be permitted in advance of official announcements from the census bureau at Washington. Information to this effect has been received by John Pfeiffer, supervisor of the census in the twelfth congressional district.

Padding of the census in previous enumerations is responsible for the ruling of the census bureau. Citizens eager to make a good showing or to report larger returns than real cities were guilty during the 1919 census of padding extensively their enumeration. A penalty of fine and imprisonment is provided for this offense now.

Four offenses common to previous censuses are listed as violations and penalties provided for committing them. They are: Receiving any consideration for appointing an enumerator or other employee or receiving any part of compensation paid such employee. Neglect or refusal to perform the ted to assist or to watch census enumerators in any of their work, or to have access to any information as to the population of the duties required. Disclosures of information secured. False returns.

THAT NEW SUIT WILL COST YOU MORE IF YOU WAIT ANY LONGER

Your new fall and winter suit, if not bought at once, will cost 30 to 40 per cent more than present prices. This is the word that comes from Chicago manufacturers of men's clothing, who attribute the advice to the increased cost of labor and materials.

Suits that recently wholesaled at $20 to $45, are to be priced at $25 to $60, according to one manufacturer, who said there had been an advance of 50 per cent in labor and materials in the last few months. A demand for another raise of $6 a week in wages is to be laid before the clothing manufacturers in a few days. Samuel Lewis, manager of the Chicago joint board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, said this demand is part of a national movement for higher pay in the clothing industry.

This means prices will go to the sky. There seems to be no limit to the wild scramble for goods—take this straight advice, attend Loewenstein's Quitting Business Sale, for prices are down to the last notch. There is a reason for Loewenstein selling at a loss, and we won't let up until the entire $75,000 stock is gone. Why pay high prices elsewhere, which means larger profits at this time of the year—a merchant is not going to sacrifice unless he is forced to do so. Just a little foresight and forehandedness on your part will bring both protection and economy.

LEWISTOWN RESERVOIR IS ALIVE WITH SMALL BASS

Carp Have Been Caught By Barrelful in the Race Near Snyderville, Says Springfield Fisherman.

Lewistown reservoir is alive with small bass, according to Frank Hutchins, local expert fisherman, who has spent every summer for the past ten years at the "big pond," enjoying its favorite sport. "I have done practically all of my fishing at the reservoir for years and I never saw anything like it this season," he remarked while in the city today. Continuing he said: "I bet that on an average I have hooked from 20 to 30 bass, not of legal size, daily since the season opened last June. And I am not the only fisherman, who has had the same experience. Practically all of them tell the same story."

Hutchins is a fly fisherman and he has made some nice catches at the pond this summer. Fishermen who use live bait, have also been pestered with the small bass. Hutchins insists that the fishing there has been better this year than it has been for a long time. The bass have not been biting for a week or more because of the winds. Crappies are taking hold now and many ring perch and catfish are being landed.

He praises the state game and fish commission for stocking the reservoir and says the fry, placed in the waters, has thrived and accounts for the large number of small bass. He believes that the fishing there will be fine for years to come unless the water freezes over like it did during the winter of 1917, when so many fish were frozen to death. Mr. Hutchins was one of those appointed by the state commission to investigate the cause of the great destruction. He thinks it was caused by lowering the water in the fall and this practice has been stopped.

By Tubs Full

Carp were caught by the tub full in the race near Snyderville recently. Some repairing on the headgates at the mill had to be done and the water was let out. People came from the far and near with tubs and baskets and captured the carp with their hands. They weighed from two to three pounds. In all about a thousand were taken from the race before the headgates were closed.

Duck Law Opens

Beginning Tuesday of this week and continuing to December 31 wild ducks, plover, jack snipe, may be killed. Under the new law ducks may be killed any day in the week, Sunday excepted, and the limit is 25. The old law prohibited the shooting of them on Mondays. The bag limit on plovers, etc., is five a day.

PROTESTS TRAIN SCHEDULE

FINDLAY.—A protest against the proposed change in the schedule of the Findlay division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad whereby every other day service would supplant present daily service, was adopted in the form of a resolution this week by city council, which instructed Mayor P. S. Shoup to join other communities in opposing the change.

Two electric generating stations are being built in Morocco by a company with $500,000 capital.

Maybe it's because that kind of music is easy to understand.

And it's certainly easier to play.

In fact we believe a baby hitting a tin pan was the incentive for this type of music.

NOT ENOUGH ACTION

"I am very sorry, sir," the publisher said, "but I'm afraid we can't use your novel, though as far as it goes, it is excellent."

May I inquire your objections to it?" the author asked, in surprise. For neither his stories had been in great demand.

"Certainly," was the reply. "In your story there are only 29 people killed by the hero, and he has but one affinity, and I have reliable information that Bookman Brothers are about to bring out one in which the hero kills 31 people, is elected on the Prohibition ticket, and has two wives run away with him." SOUTH HIGH MEETS TIFFIN HIGH TEAM

Central High Aggregation Will Stack Up Against Findlay Eleven

Stung by the defeat with which they met last Saturday, both local high school teams will step upon different fields tomorrow afternoon determined to drub their opponents. However, that determination may go for naught as both outfits are playing teams which have been traveling at a fast clip this season.

Central high will clash with Findlay. The Hancock county lads have been playing the game for all that is in it this year, and if the locals are successful it will prove a large feature in its chapeau. This game will be staged at Findlay.

South high tomorrow will meet Tiffin high at the college grounds. The visitors, it is understood, compose one of the strongest school teams in the state, and is pretty sure the locals are going to have to travel a very fast rate if they come out victorious.

BASKETBALL TEAM ORGANIZED HERE

Garford Team Is First In Lima To Issue Challenge.

According to report the first real basketball team in Lima this season has been organized at the Garford plant, and while no games have been booked as there several of the fastest teams in the state have been communicated with, and it is anticipated many torrid contests will be participated in before many more weeks.

The aggregation of basketeers formed at the automobile plant was gathered together by Grant, a well known performer, who in years past has played with many of the best outfits in this city. Every man on the newly formed team has a good reputation as to past performances, and the aggregation should prove one of the strongest in basketball annals in this city.

No positions have been assigned as yet and each man vying with the other to make a steady line with the team. Those who have been procured are Eddy, late member of the Kenton Reds; Costello, who has performed with some of the best teams in Cincinnati; Taylor, a former local high school star; Owen Dickey, a member of the old Cadets of Lima which met all comers; Mahan, a lad who made his reputation while a player with Ohio State, Grant who needs no introduction to local lovers of the game, and Powell good re-lkarew h3 shridu emfw and Wingate, two lads who bear good names when it comes to playing the game.

That Norwegian interests are seeking to replace the larger part of their war losses of tonnage is shown by the fact that a total of seventy-eight vessels was acquired through construction and purchase during the first half of the current year. Of this number only one small boat, 123 tons, was classed as a sailing vessel, all the others being steam or motor ship.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE ORPHEUM

Comedy again reigns supreme at the Orpheum theatre. Every one of the five big-time vaudeville acts on the bill for the last half of this week, is one of genuine hilarity. It is to laugh until your sides ache if you visit the Orpheum any time between now and the second show Sunday night. Melody also plays an important part on this program, it being one of the biggest singing acts thus far this season.

Because each of the acts is entirely new and goes far afield from the beaten path of vaudeville entertainment, the bill for the last half of the week is one of the most enjoyable that has been offered this year and each of the three audiences which saw it Thursday placed the stamp of unqualified approval upon the program.

There is an extra added attraction as well as a headline offering on this bill. The headliners are Fred and Eva Hurley, who head their own splendid company of miniature musical comedy artists, "The Oh Say Girls." There are fourteen people in this act. In addition to the Hurleys, who are brother and sister, the featured members of the cast are Frank Malley, the black comedian, Jack Noff, lyric tenor, and the Three Harmony Hummers. There is a singing and dancing and chorus of genuine beauties, gorgeously costumed. "Putting It Over" is the title of the little extravaganza that is the vehicle of the Hurleys for the last half of the week. It is a farce that is all new and fairly sizzles and sparkles with pep.

The Four American Beauties are the extra added attraction. They are one of vaudeville's greatest comedy singing quartettes. In addition to being comedians extraordinary, each possesses a beautiful solo voice. Singing in concert they offer some of the most delightful harmony ever heard locally. This act carries special scenery.

Wilson and Wilson are black face comedians. At each performance yesterday applause which came at their conclusion of their act absolutely stopped the show. "The Bandmaster and his Band" is the title of their turn. It is unlike anything seen before in Lima. Saxton and Farrell are a bit in their offering of eccentricity. All of their songs, comedy patter and dances are new. Harry Gilbert is a dialect comedian of remarkable versatility. He also possesses a rarely beautiful singing voice which he uses to splendid advantage.

BLANCHE SWEET MAKES

HER SCREEN "RE-DEBUT"
"The Unpardonable Sin," which is to be shown at the Rialto theatre tonight for the last time, will be of interest to local moving picture devotees for a number of reasons. The picture is a screen adaptation of the Major Rupert Hughes' book, by the same name, which has had such a tremendous sale during the past two years, and has stirred up merry controversies in various parts of the country because of its fearless handling of a timely subject. The star of the photoplay version is Blanche Sweet, who is making her "re-debut" on the screen, after having been in retirement for the past couple of years. Miss Sweet will be remembered for her splendid performances under the direction of David Wark Griffith. The director of "The Un-

This Limco presents CHARLES RAY in "Hay Foot, Straw Foot"

AT THE FAUROT TONIGHT

"pardonable Sin" is Marshall Neilan, whose work with important stars, like Mary Pickford and others, has won him a place among the foremost directors of his day. The production is one of the most elaborate which has ever been given a screen story.

FAUROT—RAY AND CHAPLIN
There is a wealth of comedy in the bill at the Faurot today. The big feature is the new Ince-Paramount comedy-drama, "Hay Foot, Straw Foot," in which Charles Ray delineates most humorously and humanly the adventures of a raw country youth in an army training camp. Other capital features of the bill include "Topics of the Day," "Stars as They Are," and a new edition of Charlie Chaplin's great comedy skit, "The Floorwalker."

REGENT
An unknown element in dramatic screen production, the introduction of animal comedy to relieve tension, has been successfully practiced in "Back to God's Country," by James Oliver Curwood, adopted from his famous magazine story, "Wapi the Walrus," at the Regent theatre today.

Nell Shipman, popular American screen favorite as Dolores; Wheeler Oakman, Wellington Player and Charles Arling, in other roles in the cast, portrays their parts with the aid and support of nearly two dozen animals, consisting of bears, wolves, lynx, fox, deer, mountain lions, raccoons, porcupines, goats and other forest beasts, trained to perfection by expert animal trainers.

LYRIC
With the fruits of years of labor hid in a place that he has forgotten Christopher Kreene sets out in search of the one person, a girl who can give him the clue to the whereabouts of his treasure. Powerful and subtle enemies follow close upon his trail. The question arises as to whether he is a spy. Surely he is met under most mysterious and suspicious circumstances. He is afraid of being shadowed and seeks to be alone. This is the situation in which Harry T. Morey finds himself in the Vitaphone feature, "The Man Who Won"

An inventor has patented a push and pull switch to be mounted within the shell of an automobile spot in the shell of an automobile spot light.

MORE "EFFICIENCY" WORK SHOWN BY CITY HALL BOSSES

Visitors coming to Lima via the Spencerville Road, are testifying daily to another one of the ENVIA-BLE jobs of the present UNVARIABLE city administration.

This particular job, is the stretch of the Spencerville road, which extends from Collett street to within a quarter of a mile of Woodlawn cemetery. Instead of being a road, the once good crushed stone pike, has been turned into a bank of mud, which is practically impassable to anything except the Republican steam-roller.

With their customary efficiency, the present administration, in widening the Hog creek channel, simply dumped the earth, which was excavated farther back on the bank instead of carrying it away. The result is that a layer of soft mud, three feet deep now covers this part of the Spencerville road.

Some brave motorists have attempted to make a path through this bank of mud, which is over a half a mile long, but the task has proven too big and the road is being avoided by all who know it.

This however does not help the uninitiated, who know nothing of the impossibility of the road, and people living on the road, say that many machines coming daily from the country, and other towns are forced to detour and seek other ways of entering the city.

The impression that these visitors get of a city, whose administration is so lack that they cannot even place a sign warning of impossibility of the road, much less repairing it, is unnecessary to comment upon.

A machine that sews the open end side of a filled bag and knots the thread has been invented in Europe.

A SALE OF SATISFACTION

An Explanation

L. Schwartz of the Sample Shop wishes to correct an erroneous report which is being circulated in the commercial circles of Lima. The Sample Shop is not SELLING OUT but is OUT SELLING any other Ladies' Ready-to-Wear Store in Allen county. For this reason some unscrupulous persons are trying to victimize L. Schwartz by saying that the Sample Shop is going out of business—far be it from such—L. Schwartz is just GOING AFTER BUSINESS in order to pay his indebtedness, occasioned by the recent $8,000 robbery of the Sample Shop. No insurance was carried and an immediate readjustment sale was ordered and the people of Lima and vicinity responded nobly. The conditions are being remedied—which is very gratifying to Mr. Schwartz. The crowds of shoppers are satisfied and in fact every one is except the Opposing Element which can not be dignified by the word "competitors."

The season's best styles distinguish the coats offered in this sale. Each is splendidly tailored from warm Winter-weight materials of Wool Silvertone, Pom Pom, Scotch Mixture, Brown Mixtures, Plush, Cut Chinchilla and Wool Velour. You are assured of the utmost in serviceability. Hundreds of coats to choose from.
